

Open Call for Research Groups

2023-2024 Academic Year

THE ISRAEL INSTITUTE FOR ADVANCED STUDIES (IIAS) invites scholars from Israel and abroad to submit Research Group (RG) proposals for the 2023-2024 academic year.

Research proposals may be submitted by initiator(s) affiliated with any academic institution in Israel or abroad. Proposals may cover any research topic from all disciplines including interdisciplinary research, and must seek to be innovative with potential impact on their research field. RG size is flexible, ranging from 5 to 8 core fellows, and each RG may include one postdoctoral fellow. Scholars spend their residency at the IIAS, located at the Edmond J. Safra Campus in Givat Ram, Jerusalem. The IIAS provides its fellows and visiting scholars with a nurturing and stimulating academic environment, as well as administrative support. Fellows from abroad receive a generous fellowship and family accommodation.

What is a Research Group?

Each RG brings together a diverse group of scholars to engage in research questions of common interest. The group fellows benefit from integrative thinking and rich dialogue, while expanding individual fellows' research. Our expectation is that the RG's period of residence will result in creative and original research that will be shared with the international research community.

For more about Research Groups at the IIAS see:

Period of Residence

The IIAS academic year runs from September 1 to June 30. Proposals should include a request for a five- or ten-month residency period. Exceptions may be granted to Research Groups to be in residence for a three-month period (e.g. for experimental sciences). The possible options are:

- ◆ A ten-month residency starting September 1
- ◆ A five-month residency starting September 1 or February 7
- ◆ A three-month residency starting September 1, February 7, or May 1

Application Deadline and Notification

Applications will open online on September 1, 2021.

The deadline for application submission is December 1, 2021.

Initiators are welcome to consult with the IIAS Director prior to submitting the proposal. To schedule a meeting please fill in the form at the following link:
